¹ "The first step in the analysis of a text is to identify the main ideas or themes. This is often done by looking at the title and the first paragraph. The next step is to identify the supporting details or evidence. This is often done by looking at the rest of the text. The final step is to evaluate the text. This is often done by looking at the author's purpose and the audience." <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1234567890>
